

ASM-AFS NEWSLETTER

September and October 2009

WELCOME TO THE 1ST ASM-AFS NEWSLETTER OF THE 2009-2010 SEASON!

I hope you have been able to attend our first two meetings of the season. If you've missed them, a few pictures and notes from the meetings can be found below. Finally, look at the second page for a list of upcoming events and the 2009-2010 Meeting Schedule. Here's to another great season!

ASM Steel Days

The 2008-2009 ASM season ended with a bang. The continuing education committee brought in seasoned experts in the area of steel manufacturing and processing for a 1½ day seminar. The event was held at the Caterpillar Inc. Technical Center Complex on August 12th and 13th of 2009. The purpose of the "Steel Days" event was to provide a learning opportunity to ASM members concerning steel making practices for both long and flat type products and the physical metallurgy and heat treatment of steel. A total of 3 interactive lectures were given as outlined below:

"Modern Plate Production Technology" by Steven S. Hansen, Vice President and Chief Technical Officer, SSAB North America.

"Production of Special Quality Steels - Long Products" by Richard Nebiolo, General Manager Metallurgical Operations (Retired), Republic Engineered Products Inc.

"Heat Treatment, Microstructure, and Performance of Carbon and Alloy Steels" by George Krauss, University Emeritus Professor, Colorado School of Mines and Metallurgical Consultant.

The "Steel Days event was "open to the public." Approximately 94 people attended the seminar including the speakers. The audience was composed mostly of engineers from the Materials disciplines from the ASM Peoria Chapter, but also contained a significant amount of Caterpillar staff from out of the local area as well as attendees from Bradley University, Komatsu, the University of Illinois, and Hickman.

Facilitator Patrick Zhao introduces Steve Hansen for his talk on Modern Plate Technology.

Prof. George Krauss talks about heat treatment of steels

Attendees mingle and talk with speakers and fellow attendees at a break during steel days.

THE SEPTEMBER MEETING

Professor Doru M. Stefanescu from The Ohio State University was the main attraction at the September Technical Meeting. Professor Stefanescu spoke about The Effect of Mould/Metal Interface Phenomena on the Surface Quality of Castings. During the coffee talk Chris Richerson described the effort the chapter has been making in the Materials Camp and provided highlights from the summer 2009 session.

Chris Richerson illustrates how much "cool" helping with Materials Camp can be.

Professor Stefanescu ponders the answer to a question by the audience

THE OCTOBER MEETING

For our October meeting, Carl Loper Jr. from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee discussed Graphite Configuration in Cast Iron. Bud Harvey invited the chapter to take a special ASM only Blacksmithing course during the coffee talk.

Bud Harvey describes his blacksmithing experience and encourages participation in his upcoming class.

Professor Loper discusses the importance of graphite morphology on the types of iron.

Field Trip

ASM is planning a Field Trip to Rockford Products, LLC in Rockford IL on Wednesday November 4, 2009. Anyone interested in learning about the fastener technology, tooling and design considerations, required properties and processing tailored to performance of demanding components in a variety of automotive and non-automotive applications, as well as those who would benefit include materials and manufacturing engineers, mechanical engineers, quality and design engineers, should contact Olly Rowan. To register, please contact Olly Rowan at 309-675-7970 or Rowan_Olga@cat.com
